LOOKOUT
By CLAIRE BURNS

YEH DIDN'T COME HOME FOR CHRISTMAS—

WERE there some in our town this past holiday season who, through their own selfish motives, or perhaps because they felt they couldn't afford it, or that because of their own busy life, refrained from visiting their parents at this one time of the year for which they plan and look ahead, perhaps for twelve months at a time? Or on the other hand, did some of our fathers and mothers here in Grimsby wait expectantly for the Yuletide, which would bring their sons and daughters home, only to receive a last-minute message or telegram to the effect that for some seemingly more important reason, their son or daughter, could not be with them for Christmas. Do we ever take time to think of the few short years, or probably before another Christmas, when it will be too late to gather at the homestead with father and mother where they will hover over us, to them, the greatest blessings they possess. Ralph Gordon, in the following poem, gives us a splendid example of the disappointment we can bring through our lack of consideration to those closest to us:

Yeh didn't come home for Christmas, son,
T' me an' mother, too,
T' make the ol' home ring again,
Jest like yeh used t' do.

Yeh know it don't seem enny time,
Since you were just a lad;
A-runnin' round in knickers, you
were sech a tiny tad.

Y'd hang yer stockin' Christmas eve,
Ag'in the chimney wall,
An' in the morn, 'bout half past five,
Then out-a bed y'd crawl.

An' there y'd find yer stockin' full
Of presents by the score,
An' what ma couldn't put inside,
She'd lay around the floor.

An' then y'd jump an' shout and sing,
An' fondle every toy,
'Twas worth a lot t' ma an' me
T' fill yer heart with joy.

An' so we wanted you this yes—
On good ol' Christmas day,
An' we were disappointed, much,
Because yeh stayed away.

Ma had the chicken roasted brown,
She made a puddin' too,
A carrot puddin', like she's made
So many times for you.

She put a chair up to your place,
Jest like she used to do;
An' when we ate, we both most cried,
Because we wanted you.

Yer maw's a little shaky now,
An' I'm not jest so spry,
We won't have many Christmases,
For how the time does fly.

So if we're here next Christmas time,
We want no one but you,
T' come an' make the ol' home ring,
Jest like yeh used t' do.

—Ralph Gordon.

GIRLS GO "SENSIBLE"—

The feminine younger generation has gone "sensible" in wearing apparel.

It is their mothers—and grandmothers—who still think they must freeze in sheer this-and-thats to be fashionable.

Their college-age daughters have gone in for such items as:

Ear-muffs, hoods, mittens, wool socks, galoshes, flannel night gowns, long sleeved and high neck cotton pyjamas, and woolen heavies.

Some of the latter are in red.

Silk and wool underwear in the knee length variety in colors—red, green, blue, yellow—are favored by the younger generation for winter sports.

Coeds crowd the counters in department stores where long-sleeved and high neck light-weight flannel gowns—some with tiny rosebud patterns—and ski-suit pyjamas are being sold. Their mothers shop at other counters buying sleeveless, backless gowns.

MENU HINT—

Hot Frankfurter and Potato Salad Casserole, Apple Sauce, Fruit Cake, Coffee.

How is this menu for a Sunday night supper, or a supper at any time when appetites are sharpened by cold weather? The casserole dish is from Good Housekeeping magazine.

TO-DAY'S RECIPES—Hot Frankfurter and Potato Salad Casserole—Six cups thinly sliced cooked potatoes, two and one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup salad or olive oil, one-fourth cup vinegar, one No. 2 can (two and one-half cups) string beans, one-fourth cup sliced onions, six frankfurters. Combine the potatoes, salt, pepper, oil and vinegar. Arrange the drained string beans in the bottom of a two-quart covered casserole. Over them arrange the potato salad in alternate layers with the onions and sliced frankfurters. (Cook the latter for five minutes before using.) Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 35 to 40 minutes. Serves six. To serve two or three make half this recipe.

FACTS AND FANCIES—

STUFFINGS—The kind of stuffing to use with meats depends on personal preference. With pork, it is a good idea to choose one which is not too rich, letting the pork itself supply the delicious flavor. For this reason, an apple stuffing is a favorite, because the apples lend the right amount of tart to make the whole dish enjoyed. With veal, a meat which contains little fat, the richer dressings may be used.

USEFUL HINTS—Grapefruit segments sprinkled with sugar and a little salt, then broiled, can be arranged with the edges overlapping to make a tasty garnish for pork or ham.

NEW AND CASUAL COATS OF TWEED ARE BOTH
SMART AND POPULAR

A Fashionable Coat of Harris Tweed

What do you know about Harris tweeds?

If you wear tailored clothes—and everyone does nowadays—you know, or think you do, something about tweeds, and would say, if questioned, that they are of British origin.

Harris tweeds are also British imports, and they are the tops in quality and beauty for outdoor wear. Now that midseason style in tweed coats and early spring wear are coming into the stores, you may find it worth while, as well as most interesting, to know something about the nature of these tweeds.

Harris tweeds are not produced by any one company. The name stamped on the cloth that you buy in piece goods or that is used on a garment, means that the tweed is made of pure virgin wool produced in Scotland, spun, dyed, finished and hand-woven by the islanders of the Outer Hebrides, off the northwest coast of Scotland, in their own homes.

The Island of Harris is the one which has given its name to these handwoven tweeds, but the fabrics also are made in the neighboring islands of Lewis, Ulst and Barra. The name, "Harris tweed" is protected by the British Board of Trade, to prevent imitations of these hand-woven fabrics from capitalizing their world-wide recognition as quality fabrics.

Two Models Shown

A smart and youthful coat in this famous tweed is pictured here. The young woman with her arms akimbo models one in green, rust and beige checked patterning. The high cut, single-breasted front closing is fastened with handsome leather buttons, and deep flap pockets are convenient and decorative.

Harris tweeds have distinctive colorings. Nearly all the dyes come from native herbs, roots, lichens, mosses, seaweeds, and other natural vegetable sources. Many of these dyes have distinctive aromas which cling faintly but unmistakably to the finished tweeds in a pleasant reminder of their outdoor origin.

The various formulae for these dyes are family heirloom secrets, jealously guarded.

Our Weekly Poem

WINTER SPARRARS

There's somethin' 'bout the sparrars that
In winter makes yeh glad,
They cheap and peep and cheap and cheap,
When all things else seem sad;
They stay around when snow has come,
An' other birds are gone,
An' with their cheepin' cheer yeh with
Their sort-a winter-song.

Their color ain't s' bright as some
Nice other birds yeh know,
But them there nice bright colored birds

Skip south t' void the snow;
But sparrars stay the hull year 'round,
An' when the winter's here,
They keep right on a-cheepin' an' A-filin' you with cheer.

I like to feed 'em in the snow,
An' watch 'em peck away,
Their feathers bunched, they look like balls,
It color drab and gray;
So let's be thankful 'cause they stay
The hull long winter through,
An' peep an' cheap an' cheap an' peep,
T' cheer both me and you.

I.O.D.E. BROWNIE PACK

An enrollment ceremony of unusual originality and charm inaugurated the newly-formed Pack of Brownies last Friday. The Pack has been formed in connection with the 50th I.O.D.E. Company of Girl Guides, with Miss Margaret Sims as acting Brown Owl. The mothers and children, members of the Lincoln and Welland Chapter of the I.O.D.E., together with Mrs. R. N. Wolfenden, the Regent, and the members of the Girl Guide Committee, gathered to witness the ceremony.

The Divisional Commissioner, Mrs. Greenwood, was prevented by illness in her family from being present, but she sent cordial greetings. The two officers of the Guide Company were there in uniform and the Brown Owl and Tawny Owl of the Strathallan Pack came from Hamilton to show their interest.

The enrollment was taken by Miss Rosseter from Dominion Headquarters. Miss Rosseter was one of the first Eagle Owls in Canada and has been decorated for her outstanding services to Guiding by the coveted world honour of the Silver Fish. With delightful naturalness she transported her hearers to Fairyland, where fairy bells chimed the new hopes and aims of Brownies-to-be. Then after games so delightful that none of the children realized they were actually undergoing tests, Miss Rosseter admitted them as Brownies under their fairy names: Peach-blossom, Tap-Tap, Nimble-fingers, Firefly, Laughing-water, Starlight. Very gravely the Brownies, pointing with one hand to their Fairy Toadstool, and the other hand raised in the Brownie salute, made their promise in clear, childish trebles: "I promise to do my duty to God and the King, and to help other people every day, especially those at home."

Following the meeting the members and their friends enjoyed a card party, eleven tables being in play. Prizes for high score went to Mrs. W. Westlake for ladies, and Mr. G. Hutchison, for the gents. Mrs. W. J. West and Mr. Knowles received the consolation prizes. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. G. Hutchison.

Following the game Siste. Allardick and her committee served lunch.

On Friday evening of this week the regular monthly Euchre will be held at Grimsby Beach School. Good prizes.

A very enjoyable time was spent in the assembly room of Grimsby Beach school last Friday evening, when the ladies Bible Class served a pot luck supper and invited their husbands and friends and after partaking of a real banquet, the croquino boards were brought out. Prizes were won by Mrs. C. Tweeney and Mr. H. Hildreth. The committee in charge deserve a lot of thanks.

Citizens will be pleased to know that ex-councillor Dr. V. R. Farrell, is able to be out again after his serious and lengthy illness. He was able to be in attendance at council meeting for a short time on Wednesday evening.

grade and widen Elizabeth street from the required distance south of the tracks to the same distance north of the tracks. The subway itself would be deepened to 12 feet which would give all the clearance necessary for any kind of traffic. Very little if any damage would accrue to the properties facing on this street through this work.

Then have the Department take over and maintain the Grimsby mountain road from the county and also take over from the County the five mile stretch of Smithville-Grimsby stone road from the top of the mountain to Number 20 highway. If this came to pass the county would be relieved of the maintenance of the Smithville and Grimsby road, and the mountain road, and this would lift a considerable load from their road expenditures, but still would not mean anything to the Department, as the maintenance costs on these roads to them, would only be a drop in the bucket.

The Smithville-Grimsby road last year cost Lincoln County $3,189.50 for new construction work and maintenance. Grimsby mountain cost them $1,345.00.

The Independent believes that this scheme is a very sensible one and one that can be handled at very little expense to the Department, yet at the same time great benefit would accrue to all parties concerned. It is to be hoped that Reeve McPherson receives the solid support of the local councils and the citizens in general, as well as the support of the County council in his efforts to have this proposition considered by the Department and eventually accepted by them.

The question might be raised that 12 foot clearance is not sufficient for large vehicles or loads going under the subway. We believe that it is more than sufficient, as there are mighty few loads of any kind travelling the highway today that are even 12 feet let alone over that height. On No. 2 highway between Montreal and Toronto where transport traffic is very heavy, 9 foot six inches is the utmost clearance under the C. N. R. tracks at Prescott and the same at the Cote Landing bridge at the top of the Saguenay Canal, in Quebec, and there is never any trouble at either of those places.

We understand that the Hon.

Thomas McQuesten, Minister of Highways, when broached on this subject by the delegation from Grimsby, that awaited upon him on other matters last week, was very much impressed with the idea and it is just quite possible that the Department will accept the idea and go ahead with the project, if it is presented in the proper manner with all the details in connection with it.

Should the Department accept the idea and do this work, they would then secure a direct connecting link between their two main highways; Lincoln county would be relieved of the maintenance of the Smithville and Grimsby road, and the mountain road, and this would lift a considerable load from their road expenditures, but still would not mean anything to the Department, as the maintenance costs on these roads to them, would only be a drop in the bucket.

The Golden Text

Mark 1:15—"The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel."

Beginning a Life of Service

PREVIEW ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Jan. 16 is Mark 1:14-28, the Golden Text being Mark 1:15, "The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.")

"GOD BURIES the workmen, but he carries forward the work." "Now after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God." For a year Jesus had been busy at his ministry in Judaea. This has been called "the year of obscurity." Its record, found only in John 1:19-4:42, belongs between verses 13 and 14 of Mark's first chapter, where Mark begins his account of "the year of popularity", of Jesus' Galilean ministry. As John goes, Jesus comes. Both have their part in the plan of God. It is something for us to remember when death removes our loved ones. Let us then look for Jesus as "comes preaching the gospel of God." It was a grief-burdened, sin-cursed world into which Jesus came, bringing as God's remedy for all humanity's needs nothing but "the gospel of God." What confidence he had in the power of that gospel, to remake a troubled world: "Jesus came preaching the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel."

Authority in Realm of Devotion

One word stands out in this lesson as expressing the impression Jesus made by his words and works; it is the word "authority". "He taught them as having authority" and "with authority he commanded even the unclean spirits and they obey him." He wielded this same authority in the realm of human devotion wherever men opened their hearts to his love. "Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. And straightway they left the nets, and followed him." Thus Simon Peter and Andrew yielded to the winsome authority of his loving appeal. "And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother... And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him." How far? James to the scaffold in Jerusalem; Peter to the cross in Rome; John to exile in Patmos! And what colossal characters he made these plain fishermen to become. Never would they have boasted that they were "self-made men!" Their Master literally "made them to become" all they ever were.

"And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught. And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes." He was not authority over the teaching of other teachers of whom he learned. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, it was the keynote of his authority as he taught the people about God and heaven. He spoke with the same authority as he addressed the realm of demons; "Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And the unclean spirit, tearing him and crying with a loud voice came out of him. And they were all amazed... saying, What is this? A new teaching! With authority he commandeth, even the unclean spirits, and they obey him!" Are we yielding to his benificent authority as he says to us, "Repent ye, and believe!"

VESTRY MEETING

The annual vestry meeting of St. Andrew's Anglican Church will be held on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock in the Parish Hall.

BOY SOPRANO PLEASES LARGE CONGREGATION

Master Dewi Jones, famous boy soprano of Hamilton, delighted a large congregation in Trinity United Church on Sunday evening when he made his first appearance in Grimsby in a song recital. During the service he sang a difficult selection from Handel's Messiah entitled "Come unto Him" with apparent ease and remarkable expression.

Following the service two groups of songs were given which revealed a voice of unusual clarity and beauty with wide range and distinct enunciation. The following numbers were chosen for the first group of songs: "Open the Gates of the Temple", by Knappa, "Where'er you walk", by Handel, and "Daddy", by Lehrand; and for the second group, "Angels Ever Bright and Fair", by Handel, "Perfect Prayer" by Stenson, and "Only a Little V'ay", by Martin.

Master Dewi, who has recently toured the nine provinces of Canada and has appeared in most of the cities of United States, won a large number of new friends on Sunday by his gracious and unassuming manner, who wish him every success in his musical career and hope that he will return to Grimsby in the not-too-distant future.

The choir, which is being augmented by additional members and which is looking forward to a season of increased usefulness in the church, is in charge of Mr. T. L. Dymond, who is filling the dual position of organist and choir leader. Mr. Dymond is splendidly qualified to discharge the duties of the position, having on various occasions since coming to Grimsby, exemplified musicianship of a high order in connection with the musical activities of the town. His occupancy of that position is an assurance that the high standard which has characterized the musical portion of the service in the United Church will be fully maintained.

PASSION PLAY STAR

Highest honor that can come to a girl from the tiny Bavarian village of Oberammergau is to play the role of the Virgin Mary in the Passion Play. In more than 300 years only one girl has twice been chosen for the coveted honor—Miss Ann Rutz, who is shown here in Hollywood, Calif.

Frank Sutherland, district manager of the Ontario Rural Hydro System appeared before council regarding the present street lighting system in use in the township.

As explained at the December meeting the new system would cost the township approximately $11 per lamp per year for 95 lamps, as against the present rate of $9.84 per lamp per year, for 100 watt lamps. Hydro are changing their system over to 25 cycle from 60 cycle. Council will make a survey of their lighting system and take the question up with Mr. Sutherland at an early date.

in having to use other mountains.

The mountain is very icy at present.

THERE WERE NO FREE PASSES AT INCOS-PEACH KINGS GAME

Checking Was so Close Customers Were Dizzy — Ports Take Game 3-2 — Concess Twins Put on a Great Act.

Passes were no good in the Incos-Peach Kings game on Friday night. Every bozo on both teams had to pay his passage and believe me it was tough paying. Not in a flock of years has there been as close a checking game in centre ice, played on the local frog pond.

Not one out of ten passes ever reached its destination in the centre ice zone. It was poke check, sweep check and then check, check, till the players and the customers were dizzy. There was plenty of rushing and lots of open work in the defence areas but try and get a two or three man passing play working in centre ice. Sticks were all over and what's more there was lots of body work going on too.

It was a nice game to watch as play was fast for the whole three periods and it was just one rush after another from end to end all night. Both goalies turned in excellent exhibitions and believe you me they had to be on their toes or good-night. Shots were winged at them from all directions and all angles and that the game wound up with the small 3-2 score in favor of the Incos, proved that the padded boys were on their job for a certainty.

Roy Farrell handled a tough game well and the penalty box had very few occupants. His biggest trouble came in the second period, when no less than three goal umpires were placed on the job. The original goal judge blinked the red glimmer for a Port goal with Robertson sitting on the puck and Farrell standing looking at him. That umpire was removed. Three minutes later the new custodian of the light turned it on when the puck was not any closer to the net than the corner. The shot came from the right boards at the blue line and passed within 20 feet of Robertson and smashed into the corner boards, but the light was on before the rubber ever even touched the wood. That gent was removed and there was no more trouble with the light turners for the rest of the evening.

Play opened up fast in the first spasm and continued so throughout the whole frame. Sixteen minutes had passed into oblivion before a tally was hung up, this one being for Port and coming from the stick of Umbo Concessi, the smooth going Port wingman, on a pass from his big brother Louis. Three minutes later little Dyke Lawson speared a pass in centre ice and staged one of those famous wraith-like rushes of his, that had the Port defence and Chadelaine looking under the shells to find the pea, and all of a sudden let drive and the old boot heel was in the twine.

In the second period both teams went scoreless but it wasn't because they weren't carrying the mail, it was simply due to the fact that they were checking one another ragged and both net minders were loaded with horse shoes or some other kind of lucky talismans. No wearers of the Kings uniforms ever tried harder to break a tie than the locals did but they just could not get that break that meant everything.

After eight minutes in the third stanza Wells of the Port whanged a high one from the blue line that landed right in front of Robertson and bounced over his stick before he could bat an eyelash. It was

RANDOM RANTS No kiddin', but the kids in this town are sure AND RUMORS steeped and par-boiled in hockey. I met a young tyke no bigger than a peanut, sashaying down the street the other night, with a five foot stick over his shoulder and I said, "Hello Jack". He gave me a dismally look and cracked "Conacher is the name, my boy". That stopped me. . . . Sport is getting a great break from the Ontario government for once. First "Big Train" Conacher and "Old Bill" Fry are appointed to the Ontario Athletic Commission and now "Conny" has been selected as the member of the House to move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. . . . Rex. dermerus Stimers, Sports Blaster over CKTB was visitor to the Incos-Kings game, despite the fact that the Macs and Mounties were playing at the Falls. Rex says a visit to Grimsby is just Old Home week for him. . . . Of all the stunts that I have ever witnessed on a hockey ice surface, the one that Pernie DeQuetteville pulled on Friday night was the worst that I ever looked at. It was utterly devoid of all rhyme, reason or sense. Any hockey player, when play is stopped, who will deliberately try to cut a man down, with the referee looking on, should be examined. . . . A little birdie from down Beamsville way, whistled in my ear the other night that Old Dan Cupid made a great rush from back of his own goal, during the Christmas holidays, and when he reached the blue line, pulled back his bow and let the old arrow fly and it landed right in the middle of the heart of Teddy Hand. They do say that the wedding bells will chime in the spring. . . . It's thumbs down for the players on The Independents and Peach Pits teams from now on, so far as their playing with any other team is concerned. Managers of both teams have issued their edict that from now on the registered players on these two teams play for those teams and no other. Indes have three men on the hospital list now, one of them out for the season and just because they were lenient and let the boys play with other teams. That is all over. Ernie Mason is issuing strict orders to his Pits that no more playing will be allowed in the "Murder and Manslaughter" leagues and if they want to wear Pits colors, they have got to cut it out. That's as it should be. Had the orders come out sooner Indes would not now be facing a row of tough gones short their best men. . . . "Blue Eyes" — I'm sorry I can't answer your question, for Dyke himself does not know how he got the name Dyke. . . . "Jinks" and Mrs. Tufford of Beamsville, Pater and Mater of the Tufford boys, are having a tough time automobile around the country following two teams this winter. When Kings and Macs play on the same night they toss a coin to see which game they will attend. . . . Wee Auri Joliat will play his 700th game with Canadians some time next month. He has never played with any other team since joining them in Grimsby in November of 1922. . . . Old Fox Nels Stewart only needs eight more goals to get himself in the magic 300 circle, all by his lonesome. What a goal getter he has been the past 10 years.

INDEPENDENTS WIN BY 1-0: PEACH PITS LOSE BY 2-1

Midgets Game Was Clean and Fast — Juvenile Game Was Fast and Full of Fights — Penalties Aplenty.

It has been a known fact ever since hockey was hockey that games cannot be won in the penalty box; nor can they be won by playing the man instead of the puck. Those things are exactly what the Peach Pits done on Tuesday night and the Hamilton Regals went home with a 2-1 win to their credit.

As a contrast, the Independents, with their three best men on the hospital list, went out and attended to their knitting, never had a penalty; played the puck consistently; handed out hard legitimate body checks behind the blue line and added another game to their string to keep them at the top of their league by 1-0.

Both games were hard battles.

The Independents-Red Kings game was fast and as clean as a cook's kitchen, while on the other hand the Pits-Regals games was a banting, smashing, jousting set-to with free fights thrown in for good measure.

Reid scored the only goal of the night in the midget game for the Indes on a beautiful lone rush, taking his time and getting set for his shot and driving it home.

In the juvenile game the Regals first goal, in the first period, was a gift from the Pits who were jugging the puck around in front of their own net like a lot of mugwumps at a circus. They deserved to have that goal scored on them. Regals notched their second goal in the second period a minute after play commenced on a sweet piece of playing, they sure earned that tally.

Grimsby grabbed their lone counter in this second stanza on a sweet two man rush by Flice and Selby with Flice getting the goal and Selby the assist.

During the second and third spasms the penalty box was occupied nearly all the time. Most of the hockey was played with four men aside, and Roy Farrell was not doing full justice to his job then. Had he been allowed to put all the men in the hoochow that should have been there, then there would have been no one left on the ice but himself, even the goalies would have been doing time.

Bowling

Frank Quigley's Peach Kings bowlers were back in the game at First United green Hamilton, Friday night as guests of Matt Burton's United rink and it was a splendid game from start to finish. The score at 11 ends stood nine all, with three ties. At the finish of eight more ends the locals were three points in the lead. The Uniteds scored 10 ends, the visitors nine ends, with United winning.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Ingram (junior), has been taken to the Hamilton Sanatorium and hope to see him back among us soon. Several of his neighbours organized a bee last Saturday afternoon and got out a good supply of wood to keep his home fires burning.

Several people in this community are suffering from colds which this winter seem to be more severe than usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon and the Misses Gliddon from Vinemount, also Miss Lyla Sheppard and the Misses Haws, from Hamilton, spent a pleasant evening last Saturday at the home of the latter's parents near Grimsby Centre. Music was the chief attraction, cards and games also being enjoyed.

Niagara Falls city council, at their inaugural meeting on Monday afternoon, dismissed Herbert E. Goddard, city manager for the last ten years. W. S. Orr, city engineer since 1928, was appointed to the position of clerk, and Wilfred Souaby was made treasurer in Mr. Goddard's place.

Mayor Johnson wanted a clear explanation from the clerk just as to the duties and salary of Richard Wedge, superintendent of Queen's Lawn Cemetery. The Mayor wanted to know just what the dissatisfaction was.

Mr. Wedge was hired before Mr. Bourne became clerk. His duties started on May 1st. His salary is $1050 a year. He is paid weekly.

Mr. Wedge stated he was originally hired at $1200 a year, he to hire his own help, but he was to be allowed to do pruning and trimming work in the winter time. Owing to the depression he had accepted a cut to $1050.

On the weekly payment basis he had only received 12 cents for his week's pay the end of last year, yet he had still received his $1050 for the year. As the calendar worked out, there were 53 Fridays last year, and that is pay day, and his $1050 was divided by 52.

Mr. Wedge claimed that no man could figure out 53 weeks in one year.

Councillor Lothian and the Mayor were mystified as to just how the 53 pay days were arrived at.

The matter was left in the hands of the Finance Committee, which was satisfactory to Mr. Wedge. "What do you want to discuss, or do you want to adjourn until another night?" asked the Mayor.

Councillor Dick—What about the highway bylaw?

Councillor Bull—I think we should take up about our town properties, also the report of the disposal plant.

"Any other motions or questions?" asked the Mayor, "because we are going to adjourn in seven minutes."

Councillor Lothian gave a brief report of his interview with Hon. Thos. A. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, last week, on various questions of importance to the town.

The minister seemed favorably impressed with the arguments presented, but did not commit himself further than to tell the deputation that he would give their claims "serious consideration".

Council adjourned at 11:34, to meet again on Tuesday night next.
